

Hello All,

FYI:

Last week I spent a few days on the island of Mallorca, Spain, but not for holidays. I was there for the opening of my exhibition „Vietnam“ at Galeria Joanna Kunstmann.

The show is part of PALMA PHOTO, an initiative of 13 galleries from Palma that focus on international contemporary photography.

Held every year since 2002, this time exhibitions are also on view at the Museo Es Baluard, the Casal Solleric and the Fundación Miró.

Opening reception: Thursday, June 18, 8 pm

Exhibition runs through July 31, 2009.

The third international F/Stop Photography Festival will take place in Leipzig.

Among others, the main exhibition „WHERE DO WE GO FROM HERE?“ features works from my series „1 h“ and „Traffic Projects“.

The new exhibition venue „Alter Handelshof“ is the former temporary space of the Museum of Fine Arts Leipzig and is located in the center of the city.

Opening reception: Wednesday, July 1, 8 pm

Curator Mikiko Kikuta invited me to spend a few weeks in Japan early this year to participate in the longterm photography project „European Eyes on Japan“. Every year, since 1999, the organisation EU-Japan Fest invites 3-4 photographers from Europe to work in one of the 47 Japanese prefectures. The resulting pictures are always shown in the European Capital of Culture as well as in Japan itself.

The exhibition with works from Niigata prefecture by Andrew Phelps, Arturas Valiauga and me will open on July 13 at the CAC – Contemporary Art Center in Vilnius, Lithuania.

Exhibition runs through August 16, 2009.
